

Three Eagles: Liberation, Science & Vulnerability

Sciences reach profoundly exceeds its grasp and a critique of science reveals that it is species-specific. Thus, in a galaxy conceivably teeming with billions of advanced life forms, its astounding that we ignore this variability of perception systems, brain/nervous systems, and unimaginably different dimensions. Hence, its totally absurd to presume to extrapolate the universe. Einstein spoke of reading the mind of God. -- one wonders which of the billions of advanced life form gods he had in mind. We should also note the presumptuous theory of everything is the morphing of science into religion. And whatever happened to the scientific method? Ultra theoretical physics seems to have forgotten this gold standard for testing scientific theory. String theory, for example, is literally a chalkboard game, regarded by many experimental scientists as more science fiction than science. In short, its time for the free ride of science to stop!
