all experience anxiety and depression some time or the other in our lives. It is a normal helpful reaction to stressfully demanding situations and is one of the several emotions that we experience in our lives in response to situations. It adversely affects the work and mental health when it occurs too often and lasts too long. Depression and Anxiety take on the form of a disease when they affect you for months and disturb the quality of life when it becomes mandatory to seek medical help. The number of people suffering from anxiety and depression is on the increase and has become a common problem of modern progressive affluent society.
